Cleveland Bay Breeding (In-Hand) Classes Guidelines

1. Most Cleveland Bay classes are held within a larger show or event. Turnout and dress requirements should be appropriate for the occasion or show. Examples include the disciplines: Hunter breeding, Eventing, Dressage sport horse in hand, and Western. Use attire (appointments) listed in show documentation.
2. Safety is always paramount. Protective headgear is encouraged.
3. Braiding is optional
4. Competitors are encouraged to enter open classes at any event to support the show and further promote the Cleveland Bay breed.
5. Judging sheets are to be used with the CBHSNA current breed standards (2022).
6. The judge(s) may excuse from the ring any unruly horse or one whose actions threaten to endanger handlers, officials, other exhibitors, or their entries.
7. A copy of the CBHSNA breed standards should be made available to the judge prior, and at any time during judging.
8. A copy of the score sheet will be made available to competitor by the end of the show day.

These are the Cleveland Bay Horse Society of North America's first set of judging sheets. Please consider using these judging sheets at your next event or competition. This is a CBHSNA document. Any alterations cannot be made without permission from CBHSNA.
